

Celebrant

Celebrants conduct personalised wedding, naming and funeral ceremonies. They also help mark other important occasions and relationships.

Average salary (a year)

Variable

Typical hours (a week)

Variable
irregular

You could work

as a contractor / self-employed as customers demand

Different routes to get this job

(check the website for entry requirements)

- a private training course

Skills and knowledge

You'll need:

- sensitivity and understanding
- customer service skills
- excellent verbal communication skills
- business management skills
- the ability to work well with others
- leadership skills
- the ability to use your initiative
- active listening skills
- to be able to use a computer and the main software packages competently

Day-to-day tasks

In your day-to-day duties you could:

- meet with couples and families to plan the ceremony they want
- offer practical advice on things like venues, music and timings
- help clients to write personal vows, tributes or readings
- organise a rehearsal before the actual event
- lead the ceremony on the day
- advise clients about legal obligations, like registering a marriage
- produce a copy of the ceremony for the clients to keep
- market your business to attract clients

Regularly check Teams channel "Careers advice for students"